Prevent Any Revolutionary Movement at Capital.

PEKING, October 12.-Between 5,000 and 6,000 Chinese troops in Hankow native city are reported to have mutinied this morning and killed from 200 to 300 Manchus. The rebels occupied Sui-Ting-Fu yesterday. It is believed that the revolutionaries will attempt to destroy the railway and prevent the transport into Hu-Peh province of the troops that were concentrated An imperial edict issued today orders the minister of war, Gen. Yin Tchang.

to proceed to Hankow with two divisions of Peking troops, about 20,000 of whom will probably be Manchus. The commander of the Chinese navy, Admiral Sah Chen Ping, is commanded to assemble a fleet of warships in the Yangtze Kiang river and join the land forces in an attack on the rebels now in possession of Wu Chang, Hankow and Han Yang.

Thus far there has been no indication of any animosity against foreigners on the part of the revolutionists. The capture of Han-Yang, which is a town of perhaps 100,000, just north of Hankow, has delivered into the hands of the revolutionists the arsenal and the important Han-Yang iron works. The revolutionists had no trouble in Han-Yang, overwhelmingly outnumbering the local troops. Gen. Chang Piao escaped by flight and the members of the local government were dispersed. The popularity of the revolutionary movement all along the river and in the interior is indicated by apparently auhentic reports that several nearby cities have fallen. Where resistance was of-fered the rebel forces the towns appear to have been put to the torch.

The grand jury at Upper Mariboro late his afternoon indicted Harry W. Philbrooks for the murder of Frederick Springmann. Philbrooks will be arraigned tomorrow morning

It is the contention of the state that Springmann was choked to death. There was no autopsy, but the physicians at the inquest yesterday afternoon told of marks on his throat and of his tongue having protruded. Philbrooks contends that he merely grabbed his employer by the throat to break the latter's hold upon him.

"I think the struggle must have been too much for him," Philbrooks told a Star reporter, "and that excitement affected his heart." Mrs. Mary A. Springmann and Miss Frances Springmann, wife and daughter of the deceased, were the most important witnesses at the inquest. Nobody witnessed the fatal meeting, and only the version of the prisoner was heard by county officers as to just what occurred in the barn, but the widow and daughter repeated to the jury a statement they said Philbrooks made when he came to "I have killed Mr. Springmann; I choked him to death," was what they told the jury the defendant said in telling of the
